

ABOUT THE CLINIC: This 3-day sheep clinic is aimed at dog/handler teams of all levels – from beginner thru advanced. For working spots dogs must be at least 1 year old at time of clinic to participate and must be in good physical condition. They must be current on all required vaccines. There will be some lecture as well as several opportunities each day to work your dog. Lunch is included each day. If you and your dog aren't ready for a working spot, or you just want to watch and learn, there are unlimited auditing spots available. Maximum working spots are limited to 8 dogs on a first-come-first-served basis.

OUR CLINICIAN: Since the early 1960's Jerry has been involved with many aspects of dog training including conformation, obedience, stockdog trials, and working ranch dogs. His trial accomplishments span the history of stockdog trials as they have evolved for over 45 years. Jerry gave one of the first all-breed stock dog clinics in Davis, CA and over the years has given demonstrations for herding dogs at many county fairs, dog events, and rodeos. While living in Colorado, Jerry had students with many herding breeds. His methods of training involve working with the animals to get the most out of them by enhancing their natural instinct without using force. He does not believe pushing the dog faster than it can comprehend. In 2001, Jerry and Sharon purchased a farm in Kansas that is perfectly suited for training dogs, raising sheep and establishing a training center. When not hosting training camps at home, Jerry is busy trialing, judging ASCA, AKC, CKC, AHBA and USBCHA trial or giving clinics.

WHAT TO BRING: The clinic will be held outdoors, rain or shine so come prepared for our changeable Wisconsin weather. Auditors should bring their own chairs, pens and paper. Working handlers should be sure to wear boots or sturdy footwear that you don't mind getting dirty and that will protect your feet from getting stepped on. Other items to remember are pen and notepad, chairs, portable shade for you and your dog as well as a sturdy crate or x-pen, leashes, toys to de-stress in the field after working is done, water bowls, sunscreen, rain gear and bug spray. Dogs must be kept crated or in x-pens during the clinic when not working.

Please make plans to join us for a Pot Luck Saturday evening after the clinic. Dave & I will provide the meat and ask everyone participating to either bring a dish to pass, or if traveling donate $5 to the meal.

CLINIC FEES: Working Spot: $350 per dog Auditors: $35 per day

Registration due by August 15th. Full Payment required at time of registration: Check payable to RRVASC.
